

Concluding Remarks

KMDA has been functioning on a wide canvas with hardly any parallel of it in the country. KMDA has been tackling formidable challenges all these preceding 35 years, which has earned KMDA an enviable position in the urban arena. KMDA has worked on projects assisted by international agencies like the World Bank, the Department for International Development (DFID) of UK and the Japan Bank for International Co-operation (JBIC). The recent initiatives of KMDA in the area of e-governance have also been acclaimed at different quarters. KMDA has developed a symbiotic working relationship with the constituent units of local self-governments. With long, varied and rich professional and urban management experience attained and with diverse groups professionals working in tandem, KMDA would continue to play a key role in the urban development scenario of not only KMA but also the State.
