

Concluding remarks

KMDA has been functioning on a wide canvas with hardly any parallel to it in the country. KMDA has been tackling formidable challenges all these preceding 40 years, which has earned KMDA an enviable position in the urban arena. KMDA has worked on projects assisted by international agencies like the World Bank, the Department for International Development (DFID) of UK and the Japan International Co-operation Agency (JICA). KMDA has developed a symbiotic working relationship with the constituent units of local self-governments. The two sister concerns of KMDA viz. KMW&SA and KIT also assist KMDA in its development initiatives. With long, varied and rich professional and urban management experience attained and with diverse groups of professionals working in tandem, KMDA would continue to play a key role in the urban development scenario of not only KMA but also the State.
